DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1, 2, 9, and 10, drawn to a method and related system for generating a corrected three-dimensional model of nucleic acids comprising generating an initial, uncorrected model of a test sequence by comparison to a reference sequence.

Group II, claim(s) 3-6, drawn to a method and related system for predicting nucleic acid three-dimensional structure comprising computing a plurality of secondary structures of a test sequence and decomposing said secondary structures into nucleic acid structure motifs.

Group III, claim(s) 7 and 8, drawn to a method and related system for refining nucleic acid structure predictions comprising calculating energy minimization terms for a test nucleic acid structure prediction model and optimizing force constraints.

The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature of Group I is generating a corrected three-dimensional model of nucleic acids comprising generating an initial, uncorrected model of a test sequence by comparison to a reference sequence.

The special technical feature of Group II is computing a plurality of secondary structures of a test sequence and decomposing said secondary structures into nucleic acid structure motifs.

The special technical feature of Group III is refining nucleic acid structure predictions comprising calculating energy minimization terms for a test nucleic acid structure prediction model and optimizing force constraints.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention or species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof. Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
